TO SCORE CLEAN UP MOVE IN CITY

COMMITTEE WILL INSPECT WARDS BEFORE MAKING AWARD.

PROBERS START SOON TO VIEW IMPROVEMENT

Will Visit Premises Each Summer Month and Check Up Appearances. Announce Winner September 1.

The clean-up committee of the Commercial club will start the first of three monthly inspections over the city of Maryville, this week, to determine which of the four wards is entitled to the trophy cup to be awarded September 1, to the ward maintaining the best kept yards and premises during the spring and summer. The committee is composed of W. C. Van Cleave, Mrs. E. G. Orear and F. P. Robinson.

The inspection committee will check up the standing of the various wards in the clean-up contest to be made within a few days, then make the same inspection next month and again in August. This will prevent persons in any ward "cramming" at the last moment to bring up the standard so as to insure victory.

Trophy Now on Exhibition.
The inspection and checking is based on a score card adopted by the various clean-up leaders last spring, and which provides a certain number of points for each improvement made.

The trophy cup is no won display at the jewelry store of DeHart & Holmes. It stands about a foot high on an ebony base. The cup itself is of sterling silver with gold lining, with space on the exterior for engraving.

The cup, when awarded September 1, will be engraved appropriate to the ward obtaining the trophy and deposited in the Carnegie free public library. It is now planned to make the clean-up feature an annual, or, rather, a continual affair.

Score as Follows.
The score cards provided the following points for each improvement:

	Points
General appearance—
Streets and alleys.....	5
Walks and pathways.....	5
Yards, condition of grass, trees, shrubbery and general order.....	30
Buildings and fences (repair and paint).....	20

NORMAL PLAY DREW CROWD

"The Yellow Jacket" by Coburns Was Weirdest Chinese Play But Interesting—Close Tonight.

The first of three plays, "The Yellow Jacket," given in the Normal auditorium last night by the Coburn Players, was attended by a fairly large number of women and some men. The play, which is a Chinese one, was weird with Mongolian costumes and actions, which made the acting all the more interesting and amusing.

While the acting of each taking part was commendable, special applause was paid by the audience at the close to Thomas E. Jackson, as the property man; Reginald Goode as Wu Hoo Gilt, "The Yellow Jacket;" Miss Helen Drummond, as Moy Fah Loy; Plum Blossom, the heroine of the play, and finally the wife of the Yellow Jacket.

The play was in three parts. The first closed with the parting of Wu Hoo Gilt's mother, the second of Wu Hoo Gilt's love making and futile quest for his ancestors and the final one with the conflict over the marriage and his final triumph over cast and proof of his ancestral standing.

The French comedy "Le Malade Imaginaire," which translated means "The Imaginary Sick Man," will be presented at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Normal auditorium, while the final one, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," from Shakespeare, will be given tonight.

Mr. Coburn will take the part of Argan, the imaginary sick man. The scene is laid in Paris.

The Shakespearean drama tonight is one mainly of fancy, and fairies flit and flutter about continually, making it an especially pleasing one for children as well as adults. The scenery is mostly of the out-of-doors near Athens, Greece.

WED MARCH 30; PART MAY 17.

Robert K. Archer Seeks Divorce From Wife—Alleges Desertion.

A suit for divorce on the ground of desertion was filed in circuit court today by Robert K. Archer against Fannie M. Archer. He alleges they were married March 30, 1914, and that she left him May 17, 1914, without just cause.

The case is set for hearing in the September term of court here.

BALL TEAMS EXEMPT OF TAX.

Base and Foot Ball Managements Need Not Pay War Tax, Government Says.

Although at first announced that managements of base ball teams, where admission is charged, would have to pay $10 per year war tax, further inquiry of the federal revenue officials has revealed that they are exempt. Relative to this, Wiley O. Cox, deputy internal revenue collector at St. Joseph, today writes to The Democrat-Forum as follows:

"I am today informed by the collector's office at Kansas City that it has been found base ball and foot ball teams are exempt from taxation. Any teams that have paid will receive refund of amount by applying for same to collector internal revenue, Kansas City."

Miss DeMotte Teaches Again.

MAY FIGHT TURKS

ITALY BREAKS DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH OTTOMANS.

TO AID AT DARDANELLES

Duke of Abruzzi to Take Army and Fleet to Help Force Turkish Stronghold, Dispatches Say.

Italy has broken diplomatic relations with Turkey and will aid the allies in forcing the Dardanelles, according to announcement made at the French ministry of war at Paris, in dispatches from Rome. Troops already are being prepared to embark for the Dardanelles to assist England and France in the Gallipoli struggle, it is said.

Berlin, June 29.—The Italian newspapers are jubilant over the announcement that Italy is to participate in the operations against the Dardanelles by sending a fleet under the Duke of the Abruzzi to release the larger British warships for important work elsewhere.

A declaration of war by Turkey is said to be considered imminent and the Rome newspapers are quoted as expressing the belief that Italy's action will signify a new era in the politics of the Orient.

OREGON DEFEATS MAITLAND.

County Seat Base Ball Team Won 4 to 2 in 13 Inning Game.

The Oregon base ball team defeated the Maitland team at Maitland Sunday afternoon by the score of 4 to 2 in a thirteen inning game. It went twelve innings with a 1 to 1 score. Bundy, pitching for Maitland, struck out fifteen batters to only six by Sherman, pitching for Oregon, but didn't have as able support.

Play Will Be Given at Empire Tomorrow Night for Rest Room Benefit.

Mr. Wilkinson will be one of the soloists of the production, and will also appear with Miss Besse Scott in song specialties. Miss Scott, who is director of the play, and Mr. Wilkinson appeared in several double specialty numbers at an entertainment given at Albany, and their acting elicited the greatest of applause.

The play "Marrying Jane" is a snappy, tinkling musical comedy and a number of the latest specialties are to be introduced. The proceeds are to be given for the benefit of the women's public rest rooms.

PLAN DREDGE WORK CHANGE

Drainage Board of 102 Meet to Consider Different Management—Another Raise Delays Work.

A special meeting of the 102 river drainage district board was held in the county court room at the court house today, to discuss plans for completing the new channel. All members of the board attended. After conferring until 10 o'clock this morning the board, accompanied by Rogers & Black, dredge boat operators of Mound City, viewed the work planned and determined how soon work on the channel could be begun.

A further discussion relative to continuing the work is being held this afternoon at the court house. A proposition to place Rogers & Black in charge of the work is under consideration, as they are said to be experienced along that line.

Roy Hamlin will probably be retained as foreman, as previously planned, however.

On account of another raise in the 102, caused by heavy rains in the north last Friday, work on the construction of a dam to resume work on the channel will be delayed several days.

TO CLOSE FOR THE "FOURTH"

There will be no mail delivery on the rural routes that day, but patrons of them may receive mail by calling at the delivery window from 11 to 12:30 o'clock that day. One city delivery will be made Monday morning, but none in the afternoon.

City and county offices also will be closed while the Normal students will have no studies Saturday.

WHITE CLOUD TO CELEBRATE.

The people of the White Cloud church neighborhood, south of the city, are arranging a big Fourth of July picnic and celebration, which will be held all day Saturday in the grove, one-half mile west of the church.

Cox, pastor of the First Methodist church, and a base ball game between the White Cloud and Arkoe teams. There will be music, recitations, various athletic games and other things to interest and amuse the crowd.

The women of the White Cloud Baptist church will have an ice cream and cake booth in addition to all Fourth of July "eats," firecrackers, torpedoes and other celebrating facilities will be on sale.

TO SPAN NODAWAY

BURLINGTON JUNCTION AIDS THE COUNTY TO REPLACE BRIDGE.

TO LET CONTRACT SOON

Tribunal May Complete Plans for Structure Next Tuesday—Another Also is Damaged Near There.

A new steel bridge to cost approximately $2,600, is to be erected this summer over the new channel of the Nodaway river directly west of Burlington Junction, according to decision of the county court in a special tour this morning. Because the county hasn't enough money for special bridge work this year, business men and citizens of and near Burlington Junction agreed this morning to raise the $2,600 fund to be loaned to the county until January 1, 1917, at no interest.

The frame "pontoon" bridge which has served to carry traffic over the new channel there was washed out recently by the flood waters, since which time all traffic from the west has been kept from Burlington Junction. The county court decided no new bridge could be constructed there this year, without such assistance from the residents there.

May Let Contract Soon.

Bids on the construction of such a span will be called for at once, so that a contract may be awarded for building the bridge at the regular meeting of the county court next Tuesday, July 6.

Members of the county court went to Burlington Junction this morning to view the place for the proposed structure and to consult with the business men relative to securing the loan.

It will be similar to the one recently installed across the Nodaway between Elmo and Clearmont.

The overflow from the Nodaway also has tended to damage the road and also approaches to the bridge over the old channel, so that it is believed, in time, some change there will have to be made. The overflow has cut around to the west of the old channel bridge with such effect as to nearly obstruct traffic.

It is believed that arrangements will be made next year to move the steel bridge across the old channel a quarter of a mile to the north, so that it would be in line with the new channel bridge and also be less likely to be damaged or washed away by floods.

IS YOUR INCOME TAX PAID.

Better Get Busy! Only Two More Days Left.

But two more days are left for the payment of the special revenue tax, the tax under the Harrison drug act and income tax. Edwin M. Harber, internal revenue collector, said yesterday that practically 90 per cent of the income tax in this district has been paid into his office. Only about half of the others have complied with the law, however.

The penalty for failure to pay the special tax, or to register as required under the Harrison act, is 50 per cent of the tax. Delinquents also are subject to prosecution for failure to comply with the law and without the stamp, which is issued by the government, they will not be permitted to do business.

"Whirlwinds" Win Again 20-9.

The "Whirlwinds," a base ball team composed of boys, defeated the boys' team captained by Russell Robey at Federal park yesterday afternoon by a score of 20 to 9. The "Whirlwinds" recently won a pennant in a three-game series.

Mrs. M. C. Blackman and daughter, Margaret, and J. L. Sweeney of Chicago are visiting in Maryville, the guests of the Robert Lyle, A. O. Mason and Frank Roelofson families.

PROVIDE NEW COUNTY BOARD

Names Six to Inspect Corrective Homes—Three Are Women—Pick Two Yearly.

A county board of visitors for the inspection and visitation of all corrective institutions in Nodaway county supported wholly or in part by county or municipal taxation, was appointed yesterday by Circuit Judge W. C. Ellison. This is the first time such has been done in this county, although the law under which this operates was enacted by the Missouri state legislature in 1909.

The law stipulates that two shall be appointed for three years, two for two years and two for one year each. Each succeeding year two new ones will be appointed.

They are to serve without pay, only expenses being provided. They are merely to inspect the various institutions of this kind over the county at various times to determine if they are being operated correctly and that the welfare of both the inmates and the county and state is being carried out.

Those appointed yesterday by Judge Ellison are C. D. Bellows and Mrs. J. D. Frank, each for three years; Augustus Romasner and Mrs. Erney Harris, each for two years; Miss Lettie Anthony and Albert Watson, each for one year. Their terms of office take effect May 1.

Successors to Miss Anthony and Mr. Watson will be appointed next April.

It is argued that such a commission will tend to work both to the advantage of the county and the inmates of these institutions.

Miss Orcutt Home.

Miss Alice Orcutt, who teaches in the public schools of Fresno, Cal., arrived in Maryville Sunday to spend the summer vacation visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Orcutt of East Fourth street.

THE WEATHER

MERGE CORNSHOW IN NORMAL COURSE

PLAN COUNTRY YOUTH'S CONTEST AND INSTITUTE IN OCTOBER

WORK TO BETTER BOTH EXHIBITS AND TALKS

Arrange For Extra Talent For Farmer and His Wife—To Hold Events at State School.

The seventh annual corn and farm products show of the Nodaway County Agricultural and Domestic Science association and the annual Farm and Home Institute of the Normal will be held in connection, probably October 27 to 30 inclusive, according to a decision reached yesterday afternoon. Bert Cooper, manager of the farm products show, and President Richardson of the Normal, appeared before the directors of the Commercial club in weekly session yesterday to decide on holding both at the same time.

The corn show will probably be held at the Normal this year instead of downtown, as was done last fall. It is believed by holding the two in conjunction that not only a better attendance will be obtained, but that those exhibiting in the show and those attending the institute will be able to gain better ideas of modern farm methods.

Plan Better Institute.

Not only is the corn show intended merely for the children of the farms now, as was the case before last year. Special prizes for exhibits made by adults will also be offered next fall. This fact will lend influence to the Normal institute and also give the institute lecturers opportunity to better explain their lectures by referring to the show exhibits.

It is the plan of President Richardson to begin booking lectures for the institute next fall, so that it really shall be a farm and home institute.

Teachers May Meet Separately.

Nearly $1,000 in cash premiums will be offered this year to the exhibitors in the show, one prize of $50 being offered to the person securing the highest yield for an acre of corn.

It was originally planned to also hold the farm products show in connection with the annual county convention of teachers of Nodaway county here, but that meeting will probably be held separately, according to present plans.

About 200 boys from over the county, and nearly that many girls, already have applied for entry blanks for next fall's show, while fully as many, if not more, than were entered last year is expected by Manager Cooper.

The farm and home institute last fall was held the first week in December, while the farm products show was held in connection with the homecoming in October.

Market Live Stock.

Maryville now has a good sprinkler. Why not extend the sprinkling to the main traveled streets at least?

Huerta came to visit us uninvited and undesired, and yet he has been arrested on suspicion of wanting to leave the country.

Mr. Huerta is entitled to our admiration for his nerve anyway. After refusing to salute the American flag and successfully defying the United States army and navy, he coolly comes to the United States to start a new revolution in Mexico.

Kansas has found a good use for the beer keg. The farmers are using them as a sort of wide wheel to keep their self-binders from sinking in the muddy fields. But how do they find so many beer kegs in a dry state?

WHY PEOPLE READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS.
From the Gallatin Democrat.

Suddenly ask twenty people why they read the advertisements in this paper every week, and fifteen out of the twenty will hesitate and stammer, and become more or less embarrassed before they can call to mind the real reason why they read the ads.

People buy this paper and read it for two very simple reasons—they want to know the news of their home community, and they want to know of the commercial advantages that are placed before them each week in its advertising columns.

This paper goes out each week to an enlightened people—to a people who are accustomed to think and act for themselves—to a people who know exactly what they want, and want to know where they can get it.

Hence the natural course for them to pursue in their search for information is to turn to the advertising columns of the paper.

The live merchant knows this—recognizes the fact that he is catering to a people of high mental attainments, and shapes his business policy to meet their commercial desires.

Such merchants live and prosper and grow with the community.

Their advertisements are constantly placing the desirability of their goods before the buyer, and the merchant is thus brought into contact with the buyer through the medium of his advertisement.

The information contained in the advertisement saves the buyer the time of chasing from place to place in search of some article of which he stands in need.

It thus becomes a time saver to the buyer, and an impulse which spurs him on to a constant perusing of the advertising pages of the paper.

This habit of reading the advertisements is growing upon the people day by day, for the public realizes that is the one and only sure means of reducing the "killing of time" to a minimum.

These are strenuous days, and time

Aluminum is soldered by the use of a blowtorch. A solder which may be used without a flux is composed of seventy-five and five-tenths parts of tin, eighteen parts of zinc and two and five-tenths parts of aluminum. The parts should be slightly heated before applying. The solder should be forced in place by means of a stiff metal tush. Another solder which requires a flux, however, is made up of 80 per cent tin and 20 per cent zinc, stearic acid being used as a flux. The objection to soldering aluminum is that the joint is not very strong.

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR LAWN

Care and Management of Old Yards and Treatment of Weeds Explained by Government.

Improving an old lawn is a very much more difficult problem than establishing a new one, says the department of agriculture. In many cases it is impracticable to attempt the improvement of an old lawn that is in bad condition, say the specialists of the department. However, if a reasonably good turf obtains, it is possible to better it materially by reseeding, fertilizing, and watering.

In the majority of cases improvement is desired in the spring, since at this season many bare spots are in evidence as the result of the preceding winter. If the areas are to be improved, are small, they can be hand-worked and reseeded with little difficulty.

If they are large, it is usually advisable to spade them up, work thoroughly, and seed, as in the case of starting a new lawn. In any event reseeding should be done early in the spring with a liberal quantity of a good seed mixture.

When the stand of grass is thin over the entire lawn or a greater portion of it, a special seeder equipped with small disks has been found very satisfactory for cutting the seed into the sod and thereby producing favorable conditions for germination and subsequent growth.

In the early spring, however, the soil is usually loose as a result of the freezing and thawing and is in sufficiently open condition to permit the seed to be covered with little difficulty. After seeding, if the ground has become quite dry, rolling is usually beneficial.

Care should be taken when mowing or watering the newly seeded areas to avoid disturbing the young grass. This caution always applies in a measure to fall seeding, although there is not so much danger of damage in this way at this season.

Fertilizing. The management of the lawn after it is once established is an extremely important matter, and there are a few general practices that should be followed carefully. Beginning in the early spring, the first thing to do is to remove with a rake the top dressing that has been applied the fall before. After removing this it is usually advisable to apply some fertilizer, even though the soil is already reasonably fertile. One of the very best fertilizers for the lawn in the spring is nitrate of soda, but on account of its quick action and its caustic effect extreme caution should be used in its application. Five pounds of nitrate of soda are sufficient for 1,000 square feet of lawn, and if applied in solution with the watering pot and the grass then thoroughly watered with a hose, there is little danger of scalding. Bone meal is probably the best commercial fertilizer to use on a lawn, considering the danger from the misuse of nitrate of soda. Bonemeal can be used without taking any special caution in its application, as it is in no way injurious to the grass. Eight pounds to 1,000 square feet is a liberal application.

Any commercial fertilizer that is used should be applied early in the spring, when the grass begins to grow. In fact, bone meal can be used to advantage every month during the growing season, except perhaps July and August. Fertilizing through the season is especially beneficial in keeping the grass stimulated at times when it would otherwise be more or less inactive. Pulverized limestone as a top dressing is very helpful, and an application of this substance can be made either in the fall, or spring. Lime corrects the acidity of the surface soil and is useful in checking the growth of moss and various other plants that are detrimental to the grass.

Mowing, Rolling and Sprinkling.

There is no hard and fast rule to be followed in connection with mowing the lawn, but clipping twice a week is not apt to injure it, and will induce the formation of a good turf. Too frequent clipping, however, is a drain on the vitality of the grass and frequently results in permanent injury.

There is some difference of opinion as to whether clippings should be removed after mowing, but in general their removal is advised, especially during wet weather, since if left to lie on the surface they are conducive to the growth of molds, which in turn produce injury to the turf. On new seedings, however, on where the grass is thin, clippings can frequently be allowed to remain with benefit.

New seedings should not be clipped closely, and during the hot weather of mid-summer and early fall the mower should be set high for old and new grass alike. The roller should be used discreetly. New grass is frequently benefited by a light rolling after the first cutting. Old sod should be rolled in the spring to firm the surface that has been loosened by freezing and thawing, but during midseason it is very doubtful if the lawn should be rolled even lightly, especially where the soil is of a heavy nature.

There are probably more mistakes made in connection with the watering of the lawn than in any other phase of its management. The practice of sprinkling as it is almost universally followed is fundamentally wrong, not that the sprinkler does not furnish enough water to the grass during the season but that it does not furnish it in properly distributed quantities. Sprinkling for a short period may appear to wet the sod thoroughly, but in reality the water does not penetrate much below the surface. This encourages the formation of surface roots and makes the grass less resistant to the severe conditions of weather and usage.

Except in rare cases, the lawn should not be watered oftener than two or three times a week, provided watering is done properly. A thorough soaking is necessary and should be given in the late afternoon or early morning. The ordinary type of revolving spray is quite satisfactory, but the amount of water applied by it is usually much less than appears. The point to be borne in mind is that the ground should be thoroughly saturated at each application to at least 3 inches in depth.

Eradication of Weeds.

While weed enemies of the lawn are troublesome throughout the growing season, they are particularly so from the latter part of June until frost. During this period crab grass is by far the worst weed present. There is no really satisfactory method of checking its growth, and the only treatment to be recommended is to cut or pull the plants before they have formed large mats. This is a very tedious and expensive practice, but where a good lawn is involved the results justify the expense. Rational fertilizing and careful watering during the summer help to overcome the effect of weeds. Chemical sprays or treatments have proved to be of very little assistance. Much difficulty is experienced in cutting crab grass with the ordinary mower on account of its semiprostrate character. This difficulty can be overcome to a certain extent if a rake is used in conjunction with the mower. By means of the rake the branches of the grass may be lifted so that they can be clipped reasonably close. It is almost impossible, however, to cut crab grass sufficiently close to prevent the formation of seed.

There are many other weeds that are troublesome in the lawn not only in the spring but also in the summer and autumn. Among the most important ones are dandelion, plantain, chick weed, oxeye daisy, and yarrow. White chemical sprays are more effective in the eradication of these weeds than in the case of crab grass, the best method of preventing their development is to remove them with a spud or similar implement.

The weed problem can perhaps best be solved by making the conditions as favorable as possible for the lawn grasses and by maintaining a strict watch at all times to check the growth of the troublesome weeds at the beginning. At the end of the growing season before the severe weather of winter arrives the lawn should be given a good topdressing of well-rotted barnyard manure. If the manure is not well rotted, it is likely to introduce an abundance of weed seeds, which will ultimately cause trouble. Top dressing not only adds fertility to the soil, but gives the grass protection during the severe weather of winter and the freezing and thawing of early spring.

The Other Fellow's Work.

From the Green and White Courier of the Normal.

Many of the students who come to this school for the summer session do not get acquainted with the other fellow's work. They are here taking four or five subjects and constantly grinding away at these, not knowing what is going on in the other departments of the school. Are you that person? As you have passed through the corridor, have you ever stopped to glance into any of the rooms to see what your schoolmate is about?

Did you know that the Fifth District Normal school has, on the fourth floor of this building one of the best equipped art departments of a school of its type in the state? To convince yourself of this take a little excursion to the fourth floor some day at one of your vacant periods and see some of the things that are being done there. The walls of the art room are decorated with blackboard drawings, water-color paintings, and crayon sketches which may serve you well next winter. Our manual training department is another section of the school you should know. Some excellent pieces of wood work are always on exhibit and you will undoubtedly be benefited by examining some of the new equipment in this department.

Our school also has some splendid laboratory equipment which every teacher of agriculture or science should see before this term closes. If you do not teach these subjects just step in and inspect. On the third floor in the geographical laboratory is a rare exhibit of silk worms. If you go away without seeing them you may never have another opportunity.

On the same floor, at the east end of the building, is our domestic science and sewing department. This gives you an opportunity to see some of the many phases of practical work which our school has to offer you.

CATTLE, SHEEP SELL BETTER

Light Receipts Boost Bovine Market—Hogs Drop, But Advance Is Anticipated.

Kansas City, June 28.—Light receipts of cattle last week met a good market, and sales were 15 to 20 cents higher on most killing cattle. Stockers and feeders were scarce, and prices were steady to lower. A good run of cattle was expected today, which materialized to the extent of 11,000 head, including 143 cars of quarantine cattle.

Corn-fed cattle were scarce and sold steady, heavy steers up to $9.25, yearlings $9.40, bulk of steers $8.25 to $9.10. Butcher cattle are holding firm, as grass cattle have not cut in on them to any extent yet, though more grassers will come each week now. A train of 18 cars of Arizona barley and alfalfa feeds arrived, and sold at $7.75 to $8.35, prices slightly better than a train of similar steers brought a week ago.

In the quarantine division about 100 cars of the supply were fed steers from North Texas, the good steers selling largely at steady prices, $8.00 to $8.75. Competition was strong on these, because of small offerings of corn-fed cattle in the native division.

Medium fed steers sold at $7.40 to $8.00, and South Texas grassers at $6.20 to $7.80, the top grassers having had a little cake, and some canner steers brought $6.85, these prices 10 to 15 cents lower. Stockers and feeders were more plentiful today and demand was strong, prices steady, common stockers around $6.60, desirable steers for the country of all weights at $7.25 to $8.00.

Hogs sold 5 to 10 cents lower, packers attempting to get them at a still further decline, without much success. Order buyers paid $7.62½ for top hogs, and bulk of all sales ranged from $7.40 to $7.55, receipts 9,000 head.

Dealers persistently predict a higher summer market, under the influence of heavier buying of cured meats during the hot weather, but packers are said to covet a range of prices around seven dollars. Receipts have been in favor of sellers during June, and there is no reason to expect any increase in the supply just now.

Sheep and lambs arrived to the number of 6,000 head, market 25c higher. Spring lambs sold at $10.15 to $10.20, including 13 loads of Arizona spring lambs at these prices. Texas stock is coming in scattered shipments, ewes worth $5.00 to $5.75, yearlings $6.50 to $7.00. Native ewes sell at $4.75 to $5.25.

TO SCORE CLEAN UP MOVE IN CITY

PROBERS START SOON TO VIEW IMPROVEMENT

Will Visit Premises Each Summer Month and Check Up Appearances. Announce Winner September 1.

The clean-up committee of the Commercial club will start the first of three monthly inspections over the city of Maryville, this week, to determine which of the four wards is entitled to the trophy cup to be awarded September 1, to the ward maintaining the best kept yards and premises during the spring and summer. The committee is composed of W. C. Van Cleave, Mrs. E. G. Orear and P. P. Robinson.

The inspection committee will check up the standing of the various wards in the clean-up contest to be made within a few days, then make the same inspection next month and again in August. This will prevent persons in any ward "cramming" at the last moment to bring up the standard so as to insure victory.

Trophy Now on Exhibition.
The trophy cup and checking is based on a score card adopted by the various clean-up leaders last spring, and which provides a certain number of points for each improvement made.

The trophy cup is no won display at the jewelry store of DeHart & Holmes. It stands about a foot high on an ebony base. The cup itself is of sterling silver with gold lining, with space on the exterior for engraving.

The cup, when awarded September 1, will be engraved appropriate to the ward obtaining the trophy and deposited in the Carnegie free public library. It is now planned to make the clean-up feature an annual, or, rather, a continual affair.

Score as Follows.
The score cards provided the following points for each improvement:

	Points.
General appearance—
Streets and alleys.....	5
Walks and parkways.....	5
Yards, condition of grass, trees, shrubbery and general order.....	30
Buildings and fences (repair and paint).....	20

NORMAL PLAY DREW CROWD

"The Yellow Jacket" by Coburns Was Weirdest Chinese Play But Interesting—Close Tonight.

The first of three plays, "The Yellow Jacket," given in the Normal auditorium last night by the Coburn Players, was attended by a fairly large number of women and some men. The play, which is a Chinese one, was weird with Mongolian costumes and actions, which made the acting all the more interesting and amusing.

While the acting of each taking part was commendable, special applause was paid by the audience at the close to Thomas E. Jackson, as the property man; Reginald Goode as Wu Hoo Git, "The Yellow Jacket;" Miss Helen Drummond, as Moy Fah Loy; Plum Blossom, the heroine of the play, and finally the wife of the Yellow Jacket.

The play was in three parts. The first closed with the parting of Wu Hoo Git's mother, the second of Wu Hoo Git's love making and futile quest for his ancestors and the final one with the conflict over the marriage and his final triumph over cast and proof of his ancestral standing.

The French comedy "Le Malade Imaginaire," which translated means "The Imaginary Sick Man," will be presented at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Normal auditorium, while the final one, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," from Shakespeare, will be given tonight.

Mr. Coburn will take the part of Argan, the imaginary sick man. The scene is laid in Paris.

The Shakespearean drama tonight is one mainly of fancy, and fairies flit and flutter about continually, making it an especially pleasing one for children as well as adults. The scenery is mostly of the out-of-doors near Athens, Greece.

BALL TEAMS EXEMPT OF TAX.

Base and Foot Ball Managements Need Not Pay War Tax, Government Says.

Although at first announced that managements of base ball teams, where admission is charged, would have to pay $10 per year war tax, further inquiry of the federal revenue officials has revealed that they are exempt. Relative to this, Wiley O. Cox, deputy internal revenue collector at St. Joseph, today writes to The Democrat as follows:

"I am today informed by the collector's office at Kansas City that it has been found base ball and foot ball teams are exempt from taxation. Any teams that have paid will receive refund of amount by applying for same to collector internal revenue, Kansas City."

MAY FIGHT TURKS

TO AID AT DARDANELLES

Duke of Abruzzi to Take Army and Fleet to Help Force Turkish Stronghold, Dispatches Say.

Italy has broken diplomatic relations with Turkey and will aid the allies in forcing the Dardanelles, according to announcement made at the French ministry of war at Paris, in dispatches from Rome. Troops already are being prepared to embark for the Dardanelles to assist England and France in the Gallipoli struggle, it is said.

Berlin, June 29.—The Italian newspapers are jubilant over the announcement that Italy is to participate in the operations against the Dardanelles by sending a fleet under the Duke of the Abruzzi to release the larger British warships for important work elsewhere.

A declaration of war by Turkey is said to be considered imminent and the Rome newspapers are quoted as expressing the belief that Italy's action will signify a new era in the politics of the Orient.

PLAN DREDGE WORK CHANGE

Drainage Board of 102 Meet to Consider Different Management—Another Raise Delays Work.

A special meeting of the 102 river drainage district board was held in the county court room at the court house today, to discuss plans for completing the new channel. All members of the board attended. After conferring until 10 o'clock this morning the board, accompanied by Rogers & Black, dredge boat operators of Mound City, viewed the work planned and determined how soon work on the channel could be begun.

A further discussion relative to continuing the work is being held this afternoon at the court house. A proposition to place Rogers & Black in charge of the work is under consideration, as they are said to be experienced along that line.

Roy Hamlin will probably be retained as foreman, as previously planned, however.

On account of another raise in the 102, caused by heavy rains to the north last Friday, work on the construction of a dam to resume work on the channel will be delayed several days.

One city delivery will be made Monday morning, but none in the afternoon.

TO SPAN NODAWAY

TO LET CONTRACT SOON

Tribunal May Complete Plans for Structure Next Tuesday—Another Also is Damaged Near There.

A new steel bridge to cost approximately $2,600, is to be erected this summer over the new channel of the Nodaway river directly west of Burlington Junction, according to decision of the county court in a special four this morning. Because the county hasn't enough money for special bridge work this year, business men and citizens of and near Burlington Junction agreed this morning to raise the $2,600 fund to be loaned to the county until January 1, 1917, at no interest.

The frame "pontoon" bridge which has served to carry traffic over the new channel there was washed out recently by the flood waters, since which time all traffic from the west has been kept from Burlington Junction. The county court decided no new bridge could be constructed there this year, without such assistance from the residents there.

May Let Contract Soon.

Bids on the construction of such a span will be called for at once, so that a contract may be awarded for building the bridge at the regular meeting of the county court next Tuesday, July 6.

Members of the county court went to Burlington Junction this morning to view the place for the proposed structure and to consult with the business men relative to securing the loan.

It will be constructed where the former one was. It will be similar to the one recently installed across the Nodaway between Elmo and Clearmont.

The overflow from the Nodaway also has tended to damage the road and also approaches to the bridge over the old channel, so that it is believed, in time, some change there will have to be made. The overflow has cut around to the west of the old channel bridge with such effect as to nearly obstruct traffic.

It is believed that arrangements will be made next year to move the steel bridge across the old channel a quarter of a mile to the north, so that it would be in line with the new channel bridge and also be less likely to be damaged or washed away by floods.

IS YOUR INCOME TAX PAID.

Better Get Busy! Only Two More Days Left.

But two more days are left for the payment of the special revenue tax, the tax under the Harrison drug act and income tax. Edwin M. Harber, internal revenue collector, said yesterday that practically 90 per cent of the income tax in this district has been paid into his office. Only about half of the others have complied with the law, however.

The penalty for failure to pay the special tax, or to register as required under the Harrison act, is 50 per cent of the tax. Delinquents also are subject to prosecution for failure to comply with the law and without the stamp, which is issued by the government, they will not be permitted to do business.

"Whirlwinds" Win Again 20-9.

The "Whirlwinds," a base ball team composed of boys, defeated the boys' team captained by Russell Robey at Federal park yesterday afternoon by a score of 20 to 9. The "Whirlwinds" recently won a pennant in a three-game series.

Mrs. M. C. Blackman and daughter, Margaret, and J. L. Swearingen of Chicago are visiting in Maryville, the guests of the Robert Lyle, A. O. Mason and Frank Roelofson families.

PROVIDE NEW COUNTY BOARD

Names Six to Inspect Corrective Homes—Three Are Women—Pick Two Yearly.

A county board of visitors for the inspection and visitation of all corrective institutions in Nodaway county supported wholly or in part by county or municipal taxation, was appointed yesterday by Circuit Judge W. C. Ellison. This is the first time such has been done in this county, although the law under which this operates was enacted by the Missouri state legislature in 1909.

The law stipulates that two shall be appointed for three years, two for two years and two for one year each. Each succeeding year two new ones will be appointed.

They are to serve without pay, only expenses being provided. They are merely to inspect the various institutions of this kind over the county at various times to determine if they are being operated correctly and that the welfare of both the inmates and the county and state is being carried out.

Those appointed yesterday by Judge Ellison are C. D. Bellows and Mrs. J. D. Frank, each for three years; Augustus Romasser and Mrs. Berney Harris, each for two years; Miss Nettie Anthony and Albert Watson, each for one year. Their terms of office take effect May 1.

Successors to Miss Anthony and Mr. Watson will be appointed next April.

It is argued that such a commission will tend to work both to the advantage of the county and the inmates of these institutions.

Miss Orcutt Home.

Miss Alice Orcutt, who teaches in the public schools of Fresno, Cal., arrived in Maryville Sunday to spend the summer vacation visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Orcutt of East Fourth street.

MERGE CORN SHOW IN NORMAL COURSE

PLAN COUNTRY YOUTH'S CONTEST AND INSTITUTE IN OCTOBER

WORK TO BETTER BOTH EXHIBITS AND TALKS

Arrange For Extra Talent For Farmer and His Wife—To Hold Events at State School.

The seventh annual corn and farm products show of the Nodaway County Agricultural and Domestic Science association and the annual Farm and Home Institute of the Normal will be held in connection, probably October 27 to 30 inclusive, according to a decision reached yesterday afternoon. Bert Cooper, manager of the farm products show, and President Richardson of the Normal, appeared before the directors of the Commercial club in weekly session yesterday to decide on holding both at the same time.

The corn show will probably be held at the Normal this year instead of down-town, as was done last fall. It is believed by holding the two in conjunction that not only a better attendance will be obtained, but that those exhibiting in the show and those attending the institute will be able to gain better ideas of modern farm methods.

Plan Better Institute.

Not only is the corn show intended merely for the children of the farms now, as was the case before last year. Special prizes for exhibits made by adults will also be offered next fall. This fact will lend influence to the Normal institute and also give the institute lecturers opportunity to better explain their lectures by referring to the show exhibits.

It is the plan of President Richardson to begin booking lectures for the institute next fall, so that it really shall be a farm and home institute.

Teachers May Meet Separately.

Nearly $1,000 in cash premiums will be offered this year to the exhibitors in the show, one prize of $50 being offered to the person securing the highest yield for an acre of corn.

It was originally planned to also hold the farm products show in connection with the annual county convention of teachers of Nodaway county here, but that meeting will probably be held separately, according to present plans.

About 200 boys from over the county, and nearly that many girls, already have applied for entry blanks for next fall's show, while fully as many, if not more, than were entered last year is expected by Manager Cooper.

The farm and home institute last fall was held the first week in December, while the farm products show was held in connection with the homecoming in October.

Market Live Stock.

The following Nodaway county stockmen marketed live stock in St. Joseph yesterday: J. W. Milbanks, R. E. Cottrell, Jas. Blagg, G. T. Clardy, Slusher & Co., H. Oatman and C. A. Lyle.

Maryville now has a good sprinkler. Why not extend the sprinkling to the main traveled streets at least?

Huerta came to visit us uninvited and undesired, and yet he has been arrested on suspicion of wanting to leave the country.

Mr. Huerta is entitled to our admiration for his nerve anyway. After refusing to salute the American flag and successfully defying the United States army and navy, he coolly comes to the United States to start a new revolution in Mexico.

WHY PEOPLE READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS.

From the Gallatin Democrat.

Suddenly ask twenty people why they read the advertisements in this paper every week, and fifteen out of the twenty will hesitate and stammer, and become more or less embarrassed before they can call to mind the real reason why they read the ads.

People buy this paper and read it for two very simple reasons—they want to know the news of their home community, and they want to know of the commercial advantages that are placed before them each week in its advertising columns.

This paper goes out each week to an enlightened people—to a people who are accustomed to think and act for themselves—to a people who know exactly what they want, and want to know where they can get it.

Hence the natural course for them to pursue in their search for information is to turn to the advertising columns of the paper.

The live merchant knows this—recognizes the fact that he is catering to a people of high mental attainments, and shapes his business policy to meet their commercial desires.

Such merchants live and prosper and grow with the community.

Their advertisements are constantly placing the desirability of their goods before the buyer, and the merchant is thus brought into contact with the buyer through the medium of his advertisement.

The information contained in the advertisement saves the buyer the time of chasing from place to place in search of some article of which he stands in need.

It thus becomes a time saver to the buyer, and an impulse which spurs him on to a constant perusing of the advertising pages of the paper.

This habit of reading the advertisements is growing upon the people day by day, for the public realizes that is the one and only sure means of reducing the "killing of time" to a minimum.

Expert Advice to Automobile Owners.

Will you kindly give me any information you can on soldering aluminium? Aluminium is soldered by the use of a blowtorch. A solder which may be used without a flux is composed of seventy-five and five-tenths parts of tin, eighteen parts of zinc and two and five-tenths parts of aluminium. The parts should be slightly heated before applying. The solder should be forced in place by means of a stiff metal brush. Another solder which requires a flux, however, is made up of 80 per cent tin and 20 per cent zinc, stearic acid being used as a flux. The objection to soldering aluminium is that the joint is not very strong.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

THE KAFFIR BOYS.

J. H. BALMER, the great English traveler, is going to bring to our Chautauqua his famous bunch of Kaffir boys. He is going to put them through their stunts for the entertainment of our people. ### HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR LAWN

Care and Management of Old Yards and Treatment of Weeds Explained by Government.

Improving an old lawn is a very much more difficult problem than establishing a new one, says the department of agriculture. In many cases it is impracticable to attempt the improvement of an old lawn that is in bad condition, say the specialists of the department. However, if a reasonably good turf obtains, it is possible to better it materially by reseeding, fertilizing, and watering.

In the majority of cases improvement is desired in the spring, since at this season many bare spots are in evidence as the result of the preceding winter. If the areas are to be improved are small, they can be hand-worked and reseeded with little difficulty.

If they are large, it is usually advisable to seed them up, work thoroughly, and seed, as in the case of starting a new lawn. In any event reseeding should be done early in the spring with a liberal quantity of a good seed mixture. When the stand of grass is thin over the entire lawn or a greater portion of it, a special seeder equipped with small disks has been found very satisfactory for cutting the seed into the sod and thereby producing favorable conditions for germination and subsequent growth.

In the early spring, however, the soil is usually loose as a result of the freezing and thawing and is in sufficiently open condition to permit the seed to be covered with little difficulty. After seeding, if the ground has become quite dry, rolling is usually beneficial.

Care should be taken when mowing or watering the newly seeded areas to avoid disturbing the young grass. This caution always applies in a measure to fall seeding, although there is not so much danger of damage in this way at this season.

Fertilizing. The management of the lawn after it is once established is an extremely important matter, and there are a few general practices that should be followed carefully. Beginning in the early spring, the first thing to do is to remove with a rake the top dressing that has been applied the fall before. After removing this it is usually advisable to apply some fertilizer, even though the soil is already reasonably fertile. One of the very best fertilizers for the lawn in the spring is nitrate of soda, but on account of its quick action and its caustic effect extreme caution should be used in its application. Five pounds of nitrate of soda are sufficient for 1,000 square feet of lawn, and if applied in solution with the watering pot and the grass then thoroughly watered with a hose, there is little danger of scalding. Bone meal is probably the best commercial fertilizer to use on a lawn, considering the danger from the misuse of nitrate of soda. Bonemeal can be used without taking any special caution in its application, as it is in no way injurious to the grass. Eight pounds to 1,000 square feet is a liberal application. Any commercial fertilizer that is used should be applied early in the spring, when the grass begins to grow. In fact, bone meal can be used to advantage every month during the growing season, except perhaps July and August. Fertilizing through the season is especially beneficial in keeping the grass stimulated at times when it would otherwise be more or less inactive. Pulverized limestone as a top dressing is very helpful, and an application of this substance can be made either in the fall, or spring. Lime corrects the acidity of the surface soil and is useful in checking the growth of moss and various other plants that are detrimental to the grass.

Mowing, Rolling and Sprinkling. There is no hard and fast rule to be followed in connection with mowing the lawn, but clipping twice a week is not apt to injure it, and will induce the formation of a good turf. Too frequent clipping, however, is a drain on the vitality of the grass and frequently results in permanent injury. There is some difference of opinion as to whether clippings should be removed after mowing, but in general their removal is advised, especially during wet weather, since if left to lie on the surface they are conducive to the growth of molds, which in turn produce injury to the turf. On new seedlings, however, or where the grass is thin, clippings can frequently be allowed to remain with benefit.

New seedlings should not be clipped closely, and during the hot weather of mid-summer and early fall the mower should be set high for old and new grass alike. The roller should be used discreetly. New grass is frequently benefited by a light rolling after the first cutting. Old sod should be rolled in the spring to firm the surface that has been loosened by freezing and thawing, but during midseason it is very doubtful if the lawn should be rolled even lightly, especially where the soil is of a heavy nature.

There are probably more mistakes made in connection with the watering of the lawn than in any other phase of its management. The practice of sprinkling as it is almost universally followed is fundamentally wrong, not that the sprinkler does not furnish enough water to the grass during the season but that it does not furnish it in properly distributed quantities. Sprinkling for a short period may appear to wet the sod thoroughly, but in reality the water does not penetrate much below the surface. This encourages the formation of surface roots and makes the grass less resistant to the severe conditions of weather and usage.

Except in rare cases, the lawn should not be watered oftener than two or three times a week, provided watering is done properly. A thorough soaking is necessary and should be given in the late afternoon or early morning. The ordinary type of revolving spray is quite satisfactory, but the amount of water applied by it is usually much less than appears. The point to be borne in mind is that the ground should be thoroughly saturated at each application to at least 3 inches in depth.

Eradication of Weeds.

While weed enemies of the lawn are troublesome throughout the growing season, they are particularly so from the latter part of June until frost. During this period crab grass is by far the worst weed present. There is no really satisfactory method of checking its growth, and the only treatment to be recommended is to cut or pull the plants before they have formed large mats. This is a very tedious and expensive practice, but where a good lawn is involved the results justify the expense. Rational fertilizing and careful watering during the summer help to overcome the effect of weeds. Chemical sprays or treatments have proved to be of very little assistance. Much difficulty is experienced in cutting crab grass with the ordinary mower on account of its semiprostrate character. This difficulty can be overcome to a certain extent if a rake is used in conjunction with the mower. By means of the rake the branches of the grass may be lifted so that they can be clipped reasonably close. It is almost impossible, however, to cut crab grass sufficiently close to prevent the formation of seed.

There are many other weeds that are troublesome in the lawn not only in the spring but also in the summer and autumn. Among the most important ones are dandelion, plantain, chick weed, oxeye daisy, and yarrow. White chemical sprays are more effective in the eradication of these weeds than in the case of crab grass, the best method of preventing their development is to remove them with a spud or similar implement.

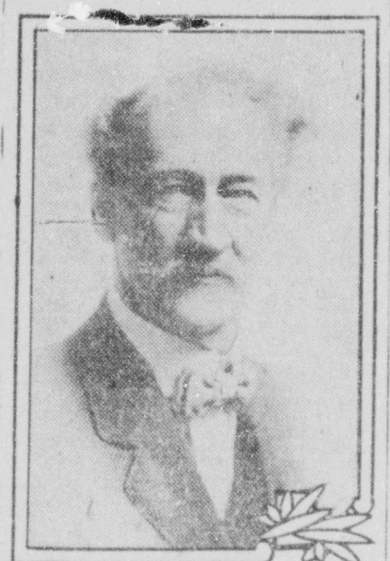

The weed problem can perhaps best be solved by making the conditions as favorable as possible for the lawn grasses and by maintaining a strict watch at all times to check the growth of the troublesome weeds at the beginning. At the end of the growing season before the severe weather of winter arrives the lawn should be given a good topdressing of well-rotted barnyard manure. If the manure is not well rotted, it is likely to introduce an abundance of weed seeds, which will ultimately cause trouble. Top dressing not only adds fertility to the soil, but gives the grass protection during the severe weather of winter and the freezing and thawing of early spring.

humor for the platform, and he has done a world of good with his homely philosophy, whose wit, for the people's profit and enjoyment.

Beauchamp is good for the blues. He is a god-send to the sad heart. No person can sit under the spell of his masterful humor and not catch the spirit of it. He helps to carry the burden of responsibility and care. He is an abounding optimist, a keen and careful thinker, an orator of great power and withal a mighty pleasant man to meet.

Be sure to hear Lou J. Beauchamp when he comes to Chautauqua. He has the goods, and you will be wiser and better for having heard him.

The Other Fellow's Work.

From the Green and White Courier of the Normal.

Many of the students who come to this school for the summer session do not get acquainted with the other fellow's work. They are here taking four or five subjects and constantly grinding away at these, not knowing what is going on in the other departments of the school. Are you that person? As you have passed through the corridor, have you ever stopped to glance into any of the rooms to see what your schoolmate is about?

Did you know that the Fifth District Normal school has, on the fourth floor of this building one of the best equipped art departments of a school of its type in the state? To convince yourself of this take a little excursion to the fourth floor some day at one of your vacant periods and see some of the things that are being done there. The walls of the art room are decorated with blackboard drawings, water-color paintings, and crayon sketches which may serve you well next winter.

Our manual training department is another section of the school you should know. Some excellent pieces of wood work are always on exhibit and you will undoubtedly be benefited by examining some of the new equipment in this department.

Our school also has some splendid laboratory equipment which every teacher of agriculture or science should see before this term closes. If you do not teach these subjects just step in and inspect. On the third floor in the geographical laboratory is a rare exhibit of silk worms. If you go away without seeing them you may never have another opportunity.

On the same floor, at the east end of the building, is our domestic science and sewing department. This gives you an opportunity to see some of the many phases of practical work which our school has to offer you.

ST. LOUIS WOMAN SUFFERS 15 YEARS

Mrs. Rosa Bennett Escapes Operation After Taking Wonderful Remedy.

Mrs. Rosa B. Bennett of 2606B Olive street, St. Louis, Mo., was ill with stomach troubles for nearly fifteen years. She had a great deal of medical attention and took many treatments. She was advised to undergo an operation by one specialist.

Instead she took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and found swift relief. She wrote:

"I was a sufferer for about fifteen years and I tried everything. I doctored with different doctors, and each one would give my trouble a different name. One said that I would never be any better until I was operated on, and another one said I had ulcers of the stomach. I could get no relief.

"I took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. 'Now I can't praise your medicine enough.'

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. ### CATTLE, SHEEP SELL BETTER

Light Receipts Boost Bovine Market—Hogs Drop, But Advance Is Anticipated.

Kansas City, June 28.—Light receipts of cattle last week met a good market, and sales were 15 to 30 cents higher on most killing cattle. Stockers and feeders were scarce, and prices were steady to lower. A good run of cattle was expected today, which materialized to the extent of 11,000 head, including 143 cars of quarantine cattle.

Corn-fed cattle were scarce and sold steady, heavy steers up to $9.25, yearlings $9.40, bulk of steers $8.25 to $9.10. Butcher cattle are holding firm, as grass cattle have not cut in on them to any extent yet, though more grassers will come each week now. A train of 18 cars of Arizona barley and alfalfa fed steers arrived, and sold at $7.75 to $8.35, prices slightly better than a train of similar steers brought a week ago.

In the quarantine division about 100 cars of the supply were fed steers from North Texas, the good steers selling largely at steady prices, $8.00 to $8.75. Competition was strong on these, because of small offerings of corn-fed cattle in the native division.

Medium fed steers sold at $7.40 to $8.00, and South Texas grassers at $6.20 to $7.80, the top grassers having had a little cake, and some canner steers brought $6.85, these prices 10 to 15 cents lower. Stockers and feeders were more plentiful today and demand was strong, prices steady, common stockers around $6.60, desirable steers for the country of all weights at $7.25 to $8.00.

Hogs sold 5 to 10 cents lower, packers attempting to get them at a still further decline, without much success. Order buyers paid $7.62½ for top hogs, and bulk of all sales ranged from $7.40 to $7.55, receipts 9,000 head.

Dealers persistently predict a higher summer market, under the influence of heavier buying of cured meats during the hot weather, but packers are said to covet a range of prices around seven dollars. Receipts have been in favor of sellers during June, and there is no reason to expect any increase in the supply just now.

Sheep and lambs arrived to the number of 6,000 head, market 25c higher. Spring lambs sold at $10.15 to $10.20, including 13 loads of Arizona spring lambs at these prices. Texas stock is coming in scattered shipments, ewes worth $5.00 to $5.75, yearlings $6.50 to $7.00. Native ewes sell at $4.75 to $5.25.
